Thruex

is a very young reality, founded in 2006 and stemmed from experiences of a trained group of professionals consolidated during the course of over ten years within the international forwarding and transport industry.

Our company is a new, dynamic and flexible force at the service of all entrepreneurial activities - in Italy and around the world - which believe that innovation, quality and a cautious mind to costs are focal points and the key to success.

Thanks to a good quality/price ratio and by supplying personalized solutions designed with scrupolous attention, we have reached the present prestigious levels by making sure that the client's requests are always met. Easing up procedures is imperative for us and relaying information and passing documentation by means of an userfriendly and in costant development IT support is our total care.

Our worldwide network of agencies will assist our clients with a complete range of service, from cargo packing to customs clearance and door delivery anywhere in the world.

Through the knowledge of terms and regulations that rule the transport industry and with the assistance of our agents worldwide, Thruex is a loyal and trustable partner for moving your cargo by truck, sea and air.

One of Thruex's primary objectives is to be environmental friendly, we have adopted procedures that will impact the environment in the lowest form possible and we are promoting the use of recycleable material. In the near future it will be our goal to utilize vehicles that are less pollutant.

Because of this and much more, working with us day by day will make you realize that Thruex is the ideal company that can add a value to your material when it is shipped.

Although our company is today a recognised as a leader in the freight forwarding industry, we will not stop here. Our mission for the future is reflected in our ambitious goals for growth, top quality services and most of all, the utmost satisfaction of our customers.

Customer care is our priority. To our customers we offer our experience and expertise to search for the best routes for their consignments, provide the correct information and a proper communication service, follow up and monitor continually their shipments. We are and we want to remain for years to come one of the leading companies in the transport market for providing the highest standards of services.

We offer a GLOBAL LOGISTIC SOLUTION to our customers thank to our, as well as our collaborators, qualities of: reliability, efficiency and ability. We aim to understand fully our customers and match their needs by keeping abreast of this fast changing competitive market. We firmly believe that we will make an ideal partner for companies in the 21st century.
